Social work is an academic discipline and profession that concerns itself with individuals, groups and communities in an effort to enhance the social functioning and overall well-being. Community Organization Programme is the process in which efforts are directed towards meeting the community needs and developing integration within the community. The Post Graduate Social Work trainees organized a “Awareness Programme on Ban of One Time Plastic”. The resource person was Mr. R.S. Velumani, District Coordinator, Swachh Bharat Mission, Cuddalore. He spoke about the alarming levels of plastic waste in the world's oceans, with an estimated 100 million tonnes dumped to date, according to the United Nations. Scientists have discovered large amounts of microplastics in the intestines of deep-sea mammals, such as whales. He highlighted that India, which uses about 14 million tonnes of plastic annually, lacks an organized waste management system. Chitra Mukherjee, Head of Advocacy and Policy at the Delhi-based Chintan Environmental Research and Action Group, has pointed out that the toxins, poisons, and persistent pollutants from some plastic products can leach into human bodies, causing various diseases, including cancer.

As part of an initiative to conserve natural water bodies in Cuddalore District, the Enviro Club of St. Joseph's College conducted a campaign for planting palm tree seeds and saplings around Perumal Lake, near Kullanchavadi, on 10.01.2020. The main objective of the campaign is to awaken the students to the significance of protecting water resources such as lakes, rivers, etc., from land encroachments and any further deterioration, thereby protecting the environment.

To convey the menace of environmental degradation among the students, Dr. T. Ganesh Kumar, Assistant Professor in the Department of Zoology, gave a talk about the importance of lakes and ponds and the methodologies for protecting water resources. He emphasized the water retention capacity of palm trees, which is essential for the embankments of water bodies during floods and landslides.

The Inspector of Police for the Kullanchavadi region, Mrs. Pathima, participated in this program and encouraged the students in such social activities. There were 15 Enviro Club volunteers from Shift I who participated in the program, and they were imparted with thorough knowledge of water conservation strategies. On behalf of our college, about 500 saplings of palm trees were planted by the student volunteers. The program came to an end with the distribution of tea and snacks.

As part of an initiative to conserve natural water bodies in the Cuddalore District, 15 student volunteers from the Enviro Club of St. Joseph's College conducted a campaign to plant palm tree seeds and saplings around Kuravanmedu near Alapakkam on 10.01.2020. This effort was guided by Dr. N. Jayaprabha, whose expertise in environmental science helped the students understand the importance of their work.

The primary objective of the campaign was to raise awareness among the students about the significance of protecting water resources, such as lakes and rivers, from land encroachments and further deterioration. By actively participating in the planting of palm trees, the volunteers aimed to contribute to the restoration of the local ecosystem and enhance the biodiversity of the area.

Additionally, the campaign provided an opportunity for students to learn about the vital role that trees play in maintaining water quality, preventing soil erosion, and supporting wildlife habitats. Through this hands-on experience, the student volunteers not only gained practical skills in environmental conservation but also fostered a sense of responsibility towards safeguarding the environment for future generations. This initiative underscores the critical need for community involvement in preserving natural resources and promoting sustainable practices.

Jayaprabha, Assistant Professor in the Department of Zoology. During this field trip, the students collected a diverse variety of molluscan shells, with particular emphasis on bivalves and gastropods. Among the species collected were Mytilus sp., Pecten sp., Donax sp., Mytilopsis sp., Cymatium sp., Meretrix sp., Olivina sp., Cerithium sp., Turritella sp., and Caracol conus. These species were observed to be the most abundant, providing students with valuable hands-on experience in marine biodiversity and shell identification.

Our college's NCC unit organized an extension activity focused on “Cleaning Public Places—Beach Cleaning” at Silver Beach, Devanampattinam, on 11.02.2020. This program was led by J. John Robert, Associate NCC Officer, along with Mr. Indresh Kumar, Chief Instructor, and Sunil Kumar, Petty Officer of the 5 (TN) Naval NCC Unit, with the participation of 30 NCC cadets.

The beach cleaning drive offered numerous benefits for both marine animals and human health. Polluted beaches can pose significant hazards to human lives, leading to accidents. Items left on beaches, such as broken glass, sharp metals, hard plastics, paper, and wood, can injure beachgoers physically.

Our NCC cadets collected 170 kg of waste materials during this initiative, contributing to a cleaner and safer environment for everyone.

The " Muthamizh Arignar - One Crore Palm Tree Plantation Program" was organized at Silver Beach. The program was presided over by the MLA, with the district collector and superintendent of police serving as the chief guests. They each delivered a short speech about the event.

Our college's NSS volunteers actively participated in the program, coordinated by the program officer, Dr. L. Santharaj, and Mr. Pradhap. Volunteers from both Shift I and Shift II contributed enthusiastically, fulfilling their roles effectively. They planted numerous palm seeds along the seashore, with each seed carefully planted near the waterline.

Planting palm trees along the seashore can offer protection against natural disasters such as floods, tsunamis, and soil erosion. The event concluded successfully, with the collective efforts of all involved making a positive impact.
